Traders Press is one of the foremost distributors of educational materials for investors and traders in the world. They publish over 80 books, courses, and gifts for traders, and distribute over 500 items from other sources and publishers. The names on their list represent active investors who are personally involved in their investment and trading programs and are eagerly seeking new information on a current basis. They have been in business since 1975.

Representative topics covered by the books and courses published and distributed by Traders Press include trading systems and methods, investment psychology, options, futures trading, mutual funds, market cycles, technical analysis, trading software, and many more.

The average unit of sale is $120, payment with purchase required. 95% of orders are paid by credit card. Names are derived from internet sales, face-to-face sale at trading and investment trade shows, direct mail, and drop shipments made on behalf of many other investment firms and websites. Firm's website, <http://www.traderspress.com> has a full listing and description of products published and distributed.
